4. Company Incorporation

4.1 General Information

Company incorporation is carried out by DICA in accordance with the terms of The Myanmar Companies Law (2017) and investment proposal applications are subjected to MIC (DICA is MIC secretariat).

DICA shall issue the certificate of company incorporation and then MIC's approval will subject to investment project.

4.2 Type of Companies and Basic Requirements

There are several ways to conduct the business in Myanmar, as outlined below:

- Company limited by shares (such as private and public companies)

- Company limited by guarantee (Non-profit associations)
- Overseas corporations (Need to register in DICA if they carry out business within the union)
- Associations
- Partnership
- Special Companies (incorporated with Special Companies Acts-1950)

In case of limited liability Company, foreign ownership is allowed up to 35% in local companies. This is a significant liberalization measure as foreign investor and now own up to 35% of the equity in Myanmar owned companies (directly or indirectly) without changing the company's status to a "foreign company".

There are no restrictions on the transfer of shares in companies between local and foreign shareholders, but any change in a "foreign company" status of a company will need to be notified to DICA.

The law allows companies with a single shareholder and single director to be established. It requires all companies established in Myanmar to appoint at least one director who is "ordinarily resident" in Myanmar. A person will be considered to be ordinarily resident if they hold permanent residency or is resident in Myanmar for at least 183 days in each 12-months period. The period of residency will be calculated from the date of incorporation of a company (or the date of commencement of the new law for existing companies).

Public companies must appoint at least 3 directors, and at least one of the directors must be a Myanmar citizen who is ordinarily resident in Myanmar.

No minimum capital requirements for the incorporation of company.

4.3 Required Documents for Registration

New company registration is allowed in new electronic platform called MyCO-Myanmar Companies Online with the commencement of the Myanmar Companies Law 2017. To provide a convenient and integrated service, “MyCO” started on August 1, 2018. DICA-MyCO is more efficient and minimal material documents.

5. Investment procedures

5.1 Investment Permit and Endorsement

The Myanmar Investment Law (MIL) introduces two categories of investment permit and endorsement. These are generally referred to as Myanmar Investment Commission (MIC) Permit and Endorsement. The intention of the approval for investment endorsement has to simplify and ease of doing business in Myanmar.

Permit

Before the MIL, any investor had to submit a proposal to MIC for a permit regardless of the business size if they intended to benefit from MIC incentives. According to the MIL, far fewer proposal will be screened and permitted by the MIC. Investors shall submit a proposal to the Commission and invest after receiving the permit for the following investment activities stipulated in the rules:

- (a) Investment activities that are essential to the national strategy;
- (b) Large capital-intensive investment projects;
- (c) Projects which are likely to cause a large impact on the environment and the local community;
- (d) Investment activities which use state-owned land and building; and
- (e) Investment activities which are designated by the government to require the submission of a proposal to the Commission.

Endorsement

If your business is not in the category of investment activities that require the MIC permit as described above (under Section 36 of the MIL), there is no requirement to submit for permit proposal to the MIC.

However, in order to enjoy the right to use land under Chapter XII, and one or more of the exemptions and reliefs under Sections 75, 77, and 78 of the law, the investors should undergo an investment endorsement application process.

The following sections provide more detailed navigational guide for investors to identify the procedures which they should undergo given the specifications and details of their proposal investment project.

5.2 Navigational Checklist for Investors

The following checklist enables investors to navigate themselves which investment procedure–MIC Permit of Endorsement–they will need to undergo or not through either of these procedures. Based on the detailed information of the investors' project, they can check the project according to the screening checklist, the detailed stipulations in the MIL and related Rules and Notification and know which procedure will apply to their proposed project, at which institutions they should submit the project to and for which procedures (e.g. to MIC for MIC Permit or Endorsement, or to Region/State Investment Committee in Regions/State for Endorsement).

By checking the project according to the navigation checklist, investors should also read the relevant sections of the Law, Rules, and Notifications. The result of this navigation process is mainly for the use of the investors when working on their project proposals. In most cases, it is advisable that investors should start with the step of inquiring information from the related Investment Division at DICA or from the Region/State DICA office. MIC will issue non-binding guidance on whether the investor needs to apply for a permit and if incentives are available.
